TEACHING POSITION BRITISH LITERATURE
(LOCAL CONTRACT)

Starting date : SEPTEMBER 2026

POSITION	Teaching position British Literature
SUPERVISOR	Proviseur LFIDD / LFIDD Headmaster
WORKPLACE	LFIDD - Nairobi
JOB DESCRIPTION	The International French School of Nairobi, Lycée Français Denis Diderot (LFDD), is currently seeking to hire a Literature Teacher for our British International Section, (SIB), for years 12 and 13 (A level) Whereas French is the main language of teaching at our school, the subjects in the International section (British Literature, and History and Geography), are taught in English. - The teacher will be expected to be conversant with the British Literature classics in Prose, Drama, Poetry as well as Shakespeare. - They will have to prepare students for the Oral and Written exams of British A level Literature, based on British teaching and examining criteria. - They will have some hours of teaching Literature in Middle school (college) as well.
QUALIFICATIONS AND EXPERIENCES	- The applicants must be holders of a Master's Degree in English Literature from a recognized University in Great Britain. - Kenyan nationals who meet the teaching experience requirements i.e. teaching of British Literature in A level, in International school, are also eligible - The successful candidate must have teaching experience in the British Educational system - Knowledge of the French educational system and experience teaching OIB will be encouraged. - Teaching methods and instructional materials should be adapted to meet these requirements. - Team spirit and team work will be key elements to join LFDD
PROFILE	- Candidates must be native English speakers or must have strong experience in the British International Section. Candidates should also be flexible and interested in working within a diverse team. - For English native speaker candidates, an ability to speak French would be an additional asset, for communication with the French school community , as well as the students' parents. - The role is a full-time position starting in September 2026 - Interested candidates must send their CV and application letter by clicking below not later than 5th June 2026